The Clark Terry/Phi Mu Alpha Jazz Festival showcases excellent student musicians and guest artists from around the nation, all contributing to a vibrant festival of jazz and the celebration of music performance and education. This year, we have the honor to host jazz trumpeter and arranger, Craig Fraedrich. Fraedrich has enjoyed a professional career as a performer and educator that spans over 30 years. From 1986 to 2017, he performed as a featured jazz trumpet soloist with The Army Blues, the premier jazz ensemble of the United States Army and one of the few full-time jazz ensembles in the country. Fraedrich is a dedicated educator and has been an associate professor at the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music since 1989. He has published eight jazz method books including three books as part of the Practical Jazz Theory for Improvisation series.

The festival has grown in size every year, becoming known as the premier student jazz event in the region. We look forward to welcoming new student groups, national artists, clinicians, and adjudicators from across the country each year. Our goal is to ensure that every participant leaves the festival energized, with a greater appreciation and knowledge for the art of jazz music and performance.
