

COUNTDOWN TO

college

Southeast Missouri State University

Classes Start August 24, 2020

We're less than two months away from the beginning of the start of the semester, and we hope you and your future Redhawk are excited to join us on campus soon!

We've been sending them emails with tips on how to succeed in college and some fun facts about Southeast, but as we check days off the summer calendar, our communication with your student will begin to get more serious. Over the coming weeks, they should expect to see emails about what to pack, where to park, how to pay their bills, and other important information they'll need to know.

We're hoping you can help by encouraging your future Redhawk to check their Southeast email account frequently (maybe even adding it to their phone) and helping them organize their inbox, so they can find this information when they need it in the future.

And just in case they've already lost them...here's your copy of what's been sent so far:

Connect with Parents

Looking to connect with other Redhawk parents? There's a Facebook group dedicated to you! Sometimes you just need to talk with other parents going through the same exciting time in their students' lives.

Please note, the group is not moderated by Southeast Missouri State University. Questions and concerns will still be best addressed by contacting the University via phone, email, or office visit.
