TV & Film Option

Creating content, establishing contacts, and maintaining connections with an ever-changing audience is the key to working in today's media industry. Southeast's Department of Mass Media prepares students to enter this fast-paced field through a combination of innovative curriculum design, access to dedicated faculty who successfully combine both professional skill sets and academic credentials, and experiential learning opportunities. Students select from one of four options to specialize in: advertising, multimedia journalism, public relations, or TV/film.

The Department of Mass Media is one of the largest on Southeast's campus and one of 119 programs accredited by the Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC).

TV & Film students will...

- Be required to have a MacBook laptop computer for use in the classroom during class time for departmental classes that are at the 300-level and above.
- Learn to write, shoot, and edit news and informational public affairs programming.
- Write screenplays and create short films that can be entered into Southeast's Fault Line Film Festival.
- Be active members of the Media Communication Association-International and attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Broadcasters in Las Vegas.
- Produce news and informational programming that will be broadcast on the local CBS and FOX affiliates in the 81st DMA.
- Direct multi-camera in-studio and remote productions and direct short films.

Career Planning

Career preparation is part of the mission of Southeast. 100% of programs offer our students an internship, study-abroad program, clinical opportunity, student teaching or research internship.

The Office of Career Services in Academic Hall 057 can provide students with professional career counseling and coaching, resume critiques, practice interviews, job search strategies, career events, networking opportunities, and more.

Demonstrated Career Proficiency is a Requirement of all Southeast Students
CL001	First Semester	Students connect academic career planning by completing an online career assessment
CL002	Second Semester	Students learn more about resources available to enhance academic and career planning
CL003	Junior Year	Students learn about continued career planning, job search strategies, and networking
CL004	Senior Year	Students learn about resume development, professional communication, interviewing, and transitioning to the first job from college
