

Bachelor of Science (BS)

A major in criminal justice offers outstanding preparation for careers in criminal justice agencies (law enforcement, corrections, juvenile justice, etc.) as well as graduate school in criminal justice or related areas and law school. The Department of Criminal Justice, Social Work, and Sociology prepares students to contribute solutions for problems and issues in the areas of crime prevention, protection and rehabilitation. A college degree provides advantages for advancing in today's criminal justice careers.

The degree in criminal justice has two tracks: an Academic/University track and a Law Enforcement Academy track. The Academic/University track is for those seeking an undergraduate degree in criminal justice as preparation for entry-level jobs in the field or advanced graduate-level or professional study. It gives a theoretical understanding of crime and the criminal justice system.

The Law Enforcement Academy track is for those seeking specialized law enforcement training. Students will complete 760 training hours in 19 weeks. If a student is successful in completing this training, they will earn 24 academic credits towards their degree.

Becoming Career Ready...

/ Learn from faculty with extensive professional experience and advanced academic degrees.

/ Criminal Justice students primarily work in law enforcement and corrections, in the adult and juvenile systems, and at the local, state, or federal levels. Examples of job titles include police officer, detective, probation and parole officer, private security or loss-prevention officer, border patrol officer, state trooper, victim advocate, correctional recreation supervisor, and juvenile case manager. Students interested in law are encouraged and prepared by the faculty to attend law school and a Criminal Justice degree is an appropriate background for law school admission.

/ Students experience a challenging and flexible curriculum with a broad range of courses on various aspects of criminal justice as well as a core of courses designed to foster critical and analytical thinking, inquiry, and life-long learning.

/ Criminal Justice students will demonstrate an ability to effectively communicate ideas in both written and spoken form, as well as preparation for the use of computer technology in the field.

/ 100% of Southeast programs offer real-world experience. Criminal Justice students earn this experience through the optional internship.

/ The path to a successful career starts with you! You can maximize your career development by working closely with Career Services and Southeast faculty – they are here to help you connect your passions, interests, and skills to jobs and opportunities in the field. Career Services provides professional career counseling and coaching, resume critiques, practice interviews, job search strategies, career events, networking opportunities, and more.
