SOUTHEAST MISSOURI STATE UNIVERSITY

Department of Elementary, Early & Special Education Course No. EL675
Course: Practicum in Diagnosis and Intervention Strategies for Developing Readers
New: FA '01

“The Teacher as Professional Educator”

Catalog Description: Supervised practice in assessing and teaching students at the developing stage who have reading disabilities.

Course Description: This course is designed to guide practice in the administration, scoring, and interpretation of informal and formal reading assessment instruments in students at the developing literacy stage. These measures will be used to inform instructional practices. The roles and responsibilities of reading professionals will be addressed.

Rationale: Teachers should be competent in the administration, scoring, and interpretation of formal and informal reading assessments for post-emergent literacy learners. Appropriate intervention strategies will be designed and implemented. The practicing teacher should explore the roles and responsibilities of reading professionals and should develop professional communication for dissemination of information.

Credit Hours: 3

Prerequisites: Successful completion of the program's core courses and Assessment in Reading.

Conceptual Framework:

Course Objectives:

The student will:

- A. develop and conduct assessments that involve multiple indicators of the older readers at the post-emergent literacy stage.
- B. administer and use information from formal and informal measures (norm-referenced tests, criterion-referenced tests, formal and informal inventories, constructed response measures, portfolio-based assessments, student self-evaluations, work/performance samples, observations, anecdotal records, journals, etc.) and other indicators of student progress to inform instruction and learning.
- C. administer and use information from an assessment of study skills to inform instruction of the older/post-emergent readers.
- D. develop content area reading strategy lessons to support the literacy development of the older/post-emergent reader.
- E. develop an assessment summary clarifying historical data, assessment data, and recommended intervention specifying appropriate instructional strategies.
- F. communicate information effectively to all involved parties.
- G. conduct intervention sessions to enhance the literacy skills of the selected students.
- H. participate in professional development experiences (reading professional journals and publications, attending conferences, etc.) to enhance knowledge and understanding of post-emergent reading development and assessment.
- I. evaluate the influence of colleagues, school personnel, paraprofessionals, parents and community members on the post-emergent readers development.
- J. model ethical professional behavior.
- K. interact with and participate in decision-making with parents, teachers, teacher educators, theoreticians and researchers.

- L. be actively involved in writing for publication and/or presentations at local, state, regional, and national meetings and conferences and/or grant writing.

Course Content: This course was developed in an outcomes-based format and was designed to conform to the 45 contact hour expectation common for three credit hour courses. The specific course content, outlined in the course objectives, will be delineated by the instructional design team and the instructor of record.

Methods of Instruction: E-mail, online exams and quizzes for students' self-evaluation, threaded discussion, reflections and web-based research on assessment and interventions.

Portfolio Requirement: A portfolio module will be developed to give evidence of competencies addressed in this class. Possible suggestions for the portfolio module for this course are:

- 1) Select a student at the developing level of reading tested in previous course
- 2) or conduct a diagnostic battery to design and implement intervention strategies.
- 3) Implement intervention strategies.
